

TU9 Alliance Participates in 12th APAIE Conference in Kaohsiung (Taiwan)

From March 20th to 23rd, the TU9 Universities will showcase their programs and their work at the APAIE Conference and meet with international partner universities

Berlin, March 15, 2017 – The TU9 Universities will share a joint stand at this year’s APAIE Conference which takes place from March 20th to 23rd in Kaohsiung in Taiwan.

The event offers the Alliance of leading Universities of Technology in Germany the opportunity to nurture existing partnerships with universities abroad, to initiate new cooperation ventures and to inform themselves and enter into dialog with others about innovations in international higher education and mobility.

For many years now, the TU9 Universities have worked closely with universities in Taiwan and a large number of cooperation partnerships have ensued. In late 2016, TU9 and the Taiwanese Comprehensive University System (TCUS or the Taiwan 4 Alliance) signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) for the next five years. The MoU is being used to intensify cooperation between the TU9 and the Taiwan T4 in all areas, from research cooperation to student mobility to personal exchange.

The Asia Pacific Association for International Education (APAIE) Conference is a networking conference that takes place at different locations in the Asia-Pacific region. It is the biggest-held conference and exhibition for higher education, exchange and mobility. The TU9 Universities will again take the opportunity to strengthen their position on the global education market, showcase their study programs and intensify existing contacts with partner universities.

In conference workshops and networking events, experts from around the world will discuss the focus topics. The theme of this year’s conference is: “New Era, New Horizon, New Frontier: Higher Education in Asia Pacific”.
